JOCIS is an international peer-reviewed scientific publication, published every four months, focused on creative industries, communication and culture.

At the end of October, we'll be launching our seventh volume, with articles about Retro-marketing, Neuromarketing, Memory, Photography, Exhibitions and Audiovisual industries.

We are also featuring an interview with Professor Eli Noam of Columbia Business School (Economics & Finance), who is also a Paul Garrett Professor of Public Policy & Business Responsibility and Director of the Columbia Institute for Tele-Information, a research centre focusing on management and policy issues in communications, internet and media.
