

"This compendium of a thousand-plus researchers in the field of economics and management of media and Internet media economics research activities is a monumental and unique undertaking. It describes authors, their work, major publishers, and research trends. Zvezdan Vukanovic, in his overview, provides both depth and breadth. For those interested in how new or traditional media are managed, this reference book is an indispensable gateway to the far-flung research community and its diverse literature."

and Internet Media Economics Research

"This is undeniably a substantial volume with the comprehensively holistic, synoptic and benchmarking approach that has been lacking in our field. It is to be hoped that this is the first edition in an open-ended and ongoing project that will serve and be used widely as both a touchstone and a catalyst for change becoming a standard reference in higher education institutions around the world."
